

Customized Operational Due Diligence Solutions for Investors

CORGENTUM

Independent Operational Due Diligence

Corgentum Consulting is a Specialist Consulting Firm That Performs Operational Due Diligence Reviews of Fund Managers

We work with in-house operational due diligence analysts and investors to conduct the industry's most comprehensive operational due diligence reviews. Our work covers all strategies globally including hedge funds, private equity, real estate funds and traditional funds.

Corgentum creates customized operational due diligence solutions for each investor. We partner with clients to integrate our operational due diligence reviews into their existing investment due diligence process. Clients work with Corgentum to provide:

- Complete outsourced operational due diligence on an entire portfolio of funds
- Operational due diligence on individual funds
- Support the work of an in-house due diligence department

Our Other Operational Due Diligence Services:

- Background investigations on fund management entities and personnel
- On-going operational risk monitoring and initial review revalidation
- Customized topic specific reviews on areas such as compliance and valuation practices
- Development of operational due diligence functions
- Review and enhancement of existing due diligence programs

Fund types we cover:

Our operational due diligence review work covers all fund strategies and structures globally including:

- Hedge funds
- Private equity
- Real estate funds
- Managed accounts
- Fund of funds
- Traditional funds